

2015 Release of Engineering Information (EI) Sheet for Yuken India's Product range

We are happy to announce the release and availability of a refreshed version of the product EI sheets on the Yuken India website.

Thanks to many of our colleagues and customers that have given valuable inputs to us in this endeavor. A print version should also become available over the next few months but as always the latest updates will be communicated through our website.

We would like to make a special mention of the expanded range of Proportional valves with Onboard Electronics and Hydraulic 'Accessories'. Also, please take a look at our recently launched 'Standard Power Units' which provides a modular solution for customers to build their own hydraulic solutions.
